

Softrel, LLC Copyright and License Agreement for the Software FMEA Online Self-Guided Training Class.

The Software FMEA online training class consists of up to three modules. The audio, images and text in all of the online SFMEA Self-Guided Training Class modules is copy protected and hereafter referred to as “The Presentation Modules”. The Presentation Modules are licensed to a single individual hereafter referred to as “End User”.

Copyright: Softrel, LLC owns the exclusive copyright to The Presentation Modules. The End User may NOT:

- Display any of The Presentation Modules on a large monitor or Television so as to make it visible to more than one person
- Display any of The Presentation Modules to more than 1 person
- Use any part of The Presentation Modules in a derivative work including but not limited to presentations, conferences, published articles or books, theses, etc.
- Make copies of any of The Presentation Modules
- Screen capture any of The Presentation Modules
- Scan any part of The Presentation Modules
- Convert any part of The Presentation Modules to digital format
- Print any part of The Presentation Modules

Usage: The End User must first purchase the “Practical Application of Software Failure Modes Effects Analysis” book and toolkit combination package prior to being able to start Module 1 of The Presentation Modules. The End User has 7 calendar days to view a purchased module. The online system may be accessed at any time during that 7 days. The End User will be able to view the 20 previously viewed slides. After the end user has completed the viewing of a module, question and answer support will be provided as per the below table by emailing support@softrel.com. Questions will be answered in the order received during normal working hours Eastern Time. The below table shows the number of hours of Question and Answer provided per student from the same organization. When there are multiple students from the same organization, the questions should be pooled to maximize support.

Number of modules purchased	First student	2nd through 5 th student	6 th student and beyond
1	1 hour	0.75 hours	0
2	1.5 hours	1 hour	0
3	2.5 hours	1.75 hours	0

License:

The End User does not have any ownership rights of any of The Presentation Modules and recognizes that Softrel, LLC is the exclusive owner of the intellectual property contained in The Presentation Modules. The End User is receiving a single license to view The Presentation Modules.

As the End User, I agree to all of the above copyright, usage and license policies.

Printed Name of End user

Printed Company of the end user

Signature of End user

Date __/__/__